The wool amendment changes the bill that free raw wool and reduced duties on manufactured woollens go into effect. on manufactured woollens go into effect as soon as the Tariff bill becomes a law. The bill had fixed Aug. 1 1894, as the date for free raw wool to take effect and Dec. 1, 1894, as the date for the reduced duties on manufactured woollens. But the radical element would accept no delay.

But the radical element would accept no delay.

The difference of four months between free and raw wool and reduced duty on manufactured wool, was originally given in order to allow the trade to adjust liself to the change.

Among the lesser amendments made are those raising the duties on diamonds from 10 per cent, under the bill to 30 per cent, and the specific repeal of the reciprocity clause of the Mckiney act. The first of these was contrary to the wishes of the Committee, but the latter was a Committee amendment.
